Constantinople, July 8.

ACCIDENTS of the Plague happen daily in Town and in many of the Villages situated on this Canal; and Intelligence has been received that it has manifested itself with some Violence at Galata.

Several slight Shocks of an Earthquake were felt in this City, and in all the neighbouring Villages, between the Hours of One and Five in the Morning of the 4th Instant; also another Shock at Seven the same Evening, and again the next Morning at Ten o'Clock. It appears that the Motion was horizontal, and the Direction from the South-west; but no Damage has been occasioned here by it.

Vienna, August 7.

According to the latest Advices from the Frontiers of Silesia, it appears that several Prussian Regiments had already begun their March towards their permanent Stations in Time of Peace; and we expect to hear, in a few Days, that the same Orders have been given in regard to the Austrian Troops.

Dresden, August 11.

Application has very recently been made to this Government by the Prussian Minister, for the Passage through this Electorate of a Part of the Prussian Army, in their Way from Silesia back to their respective Garrisons.

Stockholm, August 10.

Twenty six of the Vessels taken by the Swedes in the late Action, have been repaired and rendered fit for Service, of which Number Three are Frigates, Seven Gallies, and Two or Three other Vessels of a large Force. The Total of the Russian Prisoners is now found to be 260 Officers and 6200 Privates; besides 180, who, being dangerously wounded, have been sent back to Fredericksham.

The Swedish Government has endeavoured to lessen the Expence and Trouble of maintaining the remaining Prisoners, by inviting Proprietors of Land, Farmers, Tradesmen, and Manufacturers to make Use of their Labour in the different Branches for which they may be found to be fit: And this Expedient seems likely to succeed beyond Expectation.

Copenhagen, August 14.

A most melancholy Accident occurred on Monday last, either at the Mouth of the River Gotha, or, according to other Relations, off the Scaw. The Sophia Magdalena, a Swedish Man of War of 64 Guns, which had been sent to Gothenbourg, for the Purpose of conveying a considerable Quantity of Cannon to Carlscrona, was, upon that Day, overset, either by a sudden Squall, or (as is most probable) by the injudicious Mode of stowing the Cannons. The Ship sunk with such Rapidity, that that Part of the Crew which happened to be below the Deck at the Time of the Accident, and amounting to Eighty-seven in Number, had not the Means or Opportunity to escape. The principal Part was happily saved by the Activity and Gallantry of the Crews of some English Merchant Vessels, which were then fortunately at no great Distance.
